I know this is an old method, but there is no other good alternative. FULL DISK COPY I've found an article that seems to be an in-depth guide on how to perform a full disk copy using Linux. It might take some work, but I think it's a safe way to backup your DVD. It was written by JoeOverwater, one of the original developers of CloneDVD. EDIT: Actually, the article is still valid. Liquid-liquid chromatographic and mass spectrometric determination of mephedrone, methylone and methylenedioxyamphetamine. Two liquid-liquid chromatographic methods and a gas chromatographic method for the determination of mephedrone, methylone and methylenedioxyamphetamine in aqueous solution were developed and validated. A solid-phase extraction procedure was used for the extraction of the analytes from water. Methanol was used as an extractant. The separation was performed on columns packed with the chemically bonded phase Octylsilica and PTFE. An aliquot of the eluate was then evaporated and re-dissolved in methanol. A HPLC method was developed using a reversed-phase C18 column and an acetonitrile/ammonium acetate buffer (50/50) mobile phase. The detection limits were 0.5, 1.0 and 1.5 microg/l for mephedrone, methylone and methylenedioxyamphetamine, respectively
