Yyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyy Â .ST. CHARLES, MO — An explosion rocked a pre-existing building on Friday evening, according to St. Louis police. The cause of the blast was under investigation, but police and fire departments all had the same message about its severity. "We had an explosion and then a large fire. We are aware of two fatalities." Police officer-in-training Michael R. Dokita tweeted at 5:37 p.m. on Friday from the scene. The fire started just after 5:30 p.m. The blast came at about 5:34 p.m. The entire building was heavily damaged, but fire departments were able to contain the fire around 6:15 p.m. This is the latest in a series of suspicious fires in the area. Earlier this year, a gas leak in a St. Louis home killed a husband and wife. In August, a St. Louis carpenter died after a propane tank ruptured inside his car.using Server.Logging; namespace Server.Gumps { public class BootCheckBox : Gump { public BootCheckBox(Gump gump) : base(gump) { AddImage 6d1f23a050
